ABOUT THE TUTOR

Hello, my name is Ruth Andrus and here are a few fun facts about myself. I've been married for almost 30 years; have 5 children, and 4 grandchildren. I've been a private music teacher for over 20 years and love it. I love teaching students!! I enjoy watching them grow, stretch, develop and have those wonderful "aha" moments. God has given me a passion for kids and working with them. Music and drama are also two big passions in my life. I've been involved in drama at church and the high school my children attended. I love to act, direct and produce! Another joy for me is my sewing business - Ruth's Sewing. I have been sewing since I was in the 7th grade. I've taught many sewing classes privately, during J-term at the high school, and also sew professionally. It is still a joyful experience to take a flat piece of fabric and turn it into something creative! The biggest love of my life is my God. I'm thankful He saved me, I love worshiping and serving Him anyway I can. I am looking forward to working with and getting to know many new people each year.
