Executive Director

Ruth Hoogmoed is currently the Director for Koinonia Home School. She is responsible for the selection of tutors, classes and curriculum as well as the physical logistics of the building. Ruth is Koinonia and strives to ensure the core values are maintained. She also serves as Vice-President of the Board of Directors. Ruth can be found every Monday walking the building meeting the needs of tutors, students and parents, as well as maintaining a clean and organized facility. As a veteran homeschool mom, Ruth has been with Koinonia since the mid 90's and played an integral part of its design and growth. She homeschooled her own children and Koinonia was a vital part of their education. They have since graduated from college and successfully pursuing their careers. Ruth has been married to her husband Ron for 28 years. During the week Ruth works as an RN offering her skills and compassion to home care clients.
